

- Urban spanish markets
- Social intervention in spoiled neighbourhoods
- Rehabilitation of massive concrete buildings

“ The preexisting rigid space should be transformed into an adaptive and live changing one, to adapt the multiplicity of the neighbourhood ”

- Allow the market adapt to his users needs
- Involve the neighbourhood colletives in the public space management
- Refurbish the space keeping the collective memory of it.

- Use of lightweight and mobiles structures to create the space
- Rethink the market as an conquered public space for the people
- Reuse the waste of the intervention for the new constructions

- Third industrial revolution, Jeremy Rifkin (book)
- Boa Mistura - Ecosistema Urbano - Paisaje transversal Works
- Refurbish the waste of the rehabilitation

“ LIVING MARKET” is the story of the Madrid Cebada Market that does transforms itself into an alive space that confronts with his own immobility and gets its final sense among the users and the city.